A. & M. COLLEGE CANNERY.

Prof. Price Writes Entertainingly About the Enterprise—Splendid Results Obtained.

The small cannery, run by the horticultural department of the A & M College, has made even a better record this year than last year.

A very busy scene has been witnessed at the new agricultural and horticultural building where extra fine sweet corn, peaches, tomatoes and snap beans have been canned up for use during this college session. Quite a number of students helped run the factory during the summer with two objects in view, exclusive of the house and boiler. However, $45 of this amount was spent in repairing the old boiler; now in use. The capacity of our outfit is estimated at 5000 cans per day. The boiler is a 10-horse power. It should be a 15-horse power.

We seldom employ over 20 hands per day, including a few small boys. These men go into the field or orchard each morning and gather whatever crop we expect to can up during the day, such as tomatoes, sugar corn, snap beans, blackberries or peaches. We put up from six to twelve hundred cans per day. A groceryman recently examined our tomato cans and was greatly surprised at the viz: to learn the canning business and to pay expenses during next session. This cannery thus serves to accomplish several objects; it furnishes the college mess hall with the best canned goods at much lower rates than can be purchased in the markets, it teaches young men how to can, and it affords opportunity for the horticultural department to carry on experiments in canning.

Since we have had a large number of inquiries from various parties in the state, as well as from parties outside of the state, concerning our cannery, it may be well to go somewhat into detail concerning it. So far as I know, it is the first small cannery to be started in the state, and it has proved to be an entire success from the very beginning. Now, there are a number of factories starting up in the state similar to ours.

quality of the goods we put up. He stated that three pound cans of tomatoes, hand-packed and canned whole like ours, were the very best and retailed at 25 cents per can in Houston. Last season these same goods cost us less than 10 cents per can to put them up. This year the cost was much lower. We put up three pound cans of peaches at a cost of 10 cents per can, every item of expense included, and they were declared equal to the

TERMS OF THE BOERS

Will Accept Nothing Short of British Leaving South Africa.

THE BOERS WILL WIN

An Aid de Camp of Botha Said That Ultimate Victory Was Certain.
Sir Henry Disappoints the French Sympathizers.

New York, Nov. 28.—The London Times and New York Times quote an interview in a Nantes newspaper with the man named Sandberg, who is described as an aide-de-camp of the Boer commandant, Gen. Louis Botha. Sandberg has been touring the continent to collect Boer funds.

Sandberg declared in an interview that the ultimate victory of the Boers was certain. Asked what peace terms the Boers would accept, he said they would agree to one condition only—that the British quit South Africa. He added:

"Their recognition of our autonomy would be insufficient. We must be masters of the Cape as well as of the Transvaal."

Sandberg said that there was a moment when, for humane reasons and in order to spare their own people torture, the Boers were willing to contemplate a less advantageous peace, that was no longer the case.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times and New York Times says the latest speech of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the house of commons, has sadly disappointed his admirers of the French pro-Boers, who had hitherto thought that he shared their views and regarded him as the most formidable of the adversaries of the British government.

As the Boers have said all along that they would be content only with independence, Sir Henry's declaration that the republics must be incorporated in the British empire is a great shock to French admirers, who now think his policy much the same as the government's, and see in his actions only the ordinary motives inspiring an opposition leader aiming at office and actuated neither by philanthropy nor a disinterested love of justice.

Will Not Help Strikers.

Pittsburg, Nov. 28.—Railway trainmen here decided officially that they would continue at work, notwithstanding the strike of the Switchmen's Union of North America. This means that they will take out trains made up by non-union men and that the switchmen who are members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will not join the strike of the other union. The strikers say the action taken by the Brotherhood of Trainmen will not materially affect their cause.

Weatherford Still Wins.

Guthrie, O. T., Nov. 28.—At Tecumseh Judge Hainer in the district court refused to dissolve the injunction granted by Probate Judge Jones of Oklahoma City, restraining the board of regents of normal schools from proceeding with the erection of the Southwestern Normal school at Granite. This is a victory for Weatherford, where the school was located by a committee appointed by Governor Barnes before he retired from office. A second committee appointed by Gov. Jenkins afterward located the school at Granite, at which point the board was about to proceed with the building of the school when enjoined by Judge Jones. The case will at once go to the supreme court.

Surveyors at Work.

South McAlester, I. T., Nov. 28.—The chief engineers of the Beaumont, Northern and Choctaw railroad, with a party of 16 surveyors, are camped here, prepared to make a survey of the new line of railway from South McAlester to Beaumont, Tex. The line will cross Red river near Shawneetown, I. T., and will have the terminals at South McAlester and Beaumont. It is believed that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas people are interested in the line and will furnish the capital.

Edward Phillips Dead.

Kansas City, Nov. 28.—Edward J. Phillips, secretary of the Trades' Assembly of Kansas City, Kan., is dead, aged 58 years. ### JAMES T. KELLY.

Mr. James T. Kelly and his excellent company presented the laughable farce comedy, "Fun in a Boarding School," for matinee before a large crowd at the opera house yesterday afternoon. The piece is a light farce with music and dancing attachments and well adapted for matinee. Mr. Kelly developed the comedy genius in no small degree and most of the specialties were good. For a popular priced attraction the show is better than most of its kind and has enjoyed a successful season.

"A Baggage Check" was presented last night and was in every way better than the first performance. The piece is a roaring farce giving Mr. Kelly and the company more opportunity for wholesome fun-making, with plenty of room for the engagement tonight with "A Victim of the Times." Prices 25 35

REPORT OF THE FIGHT.

Government Troops Driven Back, but Regain Their Grounds.

Colon, Nov. 28.—It was persistently rumored Wednesday that the government troops had been driven back over the Barbacoa bridge, but the rumor turned out to be incorrect. The facts in the case are as follows:

In a skirmish Tuesday at Buena Vista the government troops lost ground somewhat and retreated to Tabernilla, which they now occupy. Tabernilla is on the Colon side of Barbacoa.

General Sotomayer commanded the Liberal forces at Barbacoa bridge. His conduct is derided. He seems to have sheltered himself and to have supervised nothing personally, hence the reckless waste of ammunition which caused the retreat of the Liberals. Generals Domingo Diaz and Lugo have been unable as yet to arrive here with their troops.

STUDEBAKER DEAD.

The Great Manufacturer Passes Away at His Home at South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 28.—Hon. Clem Studebaker died here Wednesday afternoon. He was born in Adams county, Pa., March 28, 1831. In 1850 he came to South Bend. In February, 1852, he started in the blacksmith business with an elder brother named Henry. Later they received a government contract for 100 wagons, and in 1868 the company was incorporated as the Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing company, with Clem Studebaker as president. Clem Studebaker was twice delegate to the national Republican convention, United States commissioner for Indiana to the Paris exposition of 1878, also to the New Orleans exposition. He was appointed by President Harrison a member of the Pan-American congress during the winter of 1889 and 1890.

FILIPINO ATTACK.

Two Americans Were Seriously Wounded and Two Were Captured.

Manila, Nov. 28.—The insurgents have attacked a commissary between Magdalena and Gajayaza, seriously wounding a sergeant and a private of the Eighth regiment and capturing Privates Dunn and Frenning, two horses, three rifles and 300 rounds of ammunition.

There has been a recrudescence of insurgent activity at Tanauan, province of Batangas, southwest Luzon.

An interpreter named Alberto has been killed in the market place for refusing to donate a percentage of his salary to the insurgents. Other government employes have been similarly threatened.

Again Reported Dead.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Secretary Hay received a dispatch from Constantinople.

Damages Against a Railroad.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 28.—Lacy Duncan was granted $3,000 damages from the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad for the killing of his wife in a railroad collision which took place at Marfa on Dec. 15, 1873. The suit was brought for $15,000, but the court cut the amount to $3,000 and allowed with all costs to which the plaintiff has been subjected since the accident occurred. A hack containing Mrs. Lacy Duncan, Mrs. John Krupp, Mrs. William Coalson and others was going over a crossing at Marfa when a doubleheader freight train ran into the hack, throwing the first two named against the engine. They were both instantly killed. In the hack were two little girls, one of whom was seriously injured and the other one slightly bruised. The hack was slightly smashed into small pieces and both the horses killed. The driver escaped from the accident without any serious injuries.

Reparation Made.

Paris, Tex., Nov. 28.—A business band has been camped at Charleston, Delta county, the last eight weeks and has created quite a stir. Many have professed sanctification, and as a result there have been some remarkable restitutions. Three men who became sanctified went to a farmer and told him that 18 years ago they had carried a beegum away from his place, and that they wanted to pay for it. The gum was worth about $1.50 at the time it was taken. They insisted on paying interest on the amount for the eighteen years. They figured it up at $10.50, which amount they paid.

JAMES T. KELLY.

Mr. James T. Kelly and his excellent company presented the laughable farce comedy, "Fun in a Boarding School," for matinee before a large crowd at the opera house yesterday afternoon. The piece is a light farce with music and dancing attachments and well adapted for matinee. Mr. Kelly developed the comedy genius in no small degree and most of the specialties were good. For a popular priced attraction the show is better than most of its kind and has enjoyed a successful season.

"A Baggage Check" was presented last night and was in every way better than the first performance. The piece is a roaring farce giving Mr. Kelly and the company more opportunity for wholesome fun-making, with plenty of room for agent and nobles. The engagement tonight with "A Victim of Love." ### REPORT OF THE FIGHT.

Government Troops Driven Back, but Regain Their Grounds.

Colon, Nov. 28.—It was persistently rumored Wednesday that the government troops had been driven back over the Barbacoa bridge, but the rumor turned out to be incorrect. The facts in the case are as follows:

In a skirmish Tuesday at Buent Vista the government troops lost ground somewhat and retreated to Tabernilla, which they now occupy. Tabernilla is on the Colon side of Barbacoa.

General Sotomayer commanded the Liberal forces at Barbacoa bridge. His conduct is decried. He seems to have sheltered himself and to have supervised nothing personally, hence the reckless waste of ammunition which caused the retreat of the Liberals. Generals Domingo Diaz and Lugo have been unable as yet to arrive here with their troops.

STUDEBAKER DEAD.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 28.—Hon. Clem Studebaker died here Wednesday afternoon. He was born in Adams county, Pa., March 28, 1831. In 1850 he came to South Bend. In February, 1852, he started in the blacksmith business with an elder brother named Henry. Later they received a government contract for 100 wagons, and in 1868 the company was incorporated as the Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing company, with Clem Studebaker as president. Clem Studebaker was twice delegate to the national Republican convention, United States commissioner for Indiana to the Paris exposition of 1878, also to the New Orleans exposition. He was appointed by President Harrison a member of the Pan-American congress during the winter of 1889 and 1890.

FILIPINO ATTACK.

Two Americans Were Seriously Wounded and Two Were Captured.

Manila, Nov. 28.—The insurgents have attacked a commissary between Magdalena and Gajayaza, seriously wounding a sergeant and a private of the Eighth regiment and capturing Privates Dunn and Frenning, two horses, three rifles and 300 rounds of ammunition.

There has been a recrudescence of insurgent activity at Tanauan, province of Batangas, southwest Luzon.

An interpreter named Alberto has been killed in the market place for refusing to donate a percentage of his salary to the insurgents. Other government employees have been similarly threatened.

Damages Against a Railroad.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 28.—Lacy Duncan was granted $3,000 damages from the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad for the killing of his wife in a railroad collision which took place at Marfa on Dec. 15, 1893. The suit was brought for $15,000, but the court cut the amount to one-fifth and allowed it with all costs to which the plaintiff has been subject since the accident occurred. A hack containing Mrs. Lacy Duncan, Mrs. John Krupp, Mrs. William Coulson and others was going over a crossing at Marfa when a doubleheader freight train ran into the hack, throwing the first two named against the engine. They were both instantly killed. In the hack were two little girls, one of whom was seriously injured and the other one slightly bruised. The hack was slightly smashed into small pieces and both the horses killed. The driver escaped from the accident without any serious injuries.

Reparation Made to a Farmer.

Paris, Tex., Nov. 28.—A business band has been camped at Charleston, Delta county, the last eight weeks and has created quite a stir. Many have professed sanctification, and as a result there have been some remarkable restitutions. Three men who became sanctified went to a farmer and told him that 13 years ago they had carried a beegum away from his place, and that they wanted to pay for place, and that they wanted about $1.50 ft. The gum was taken. They insisted on paying interest on the amount for the eighteen years. They figured it up at $10.50, which amount they paid.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVED.

Business Houses Closed—Union Services at the Christian Church—Schools Dismissed.

Thanksgiving was appropriately observed in Bryan yesterday by the closing of the business houses, banks, shops, postoffice and dismissing the schools. The day was a beautiful one, and was spent quietly at home by most of the people, family reunions and dinners being very generally enjoyed.

At 11 o'clock union Thanksgiving services were held at the Christian church. The church was crowded, and some who came went away without being able to find room. The attendance and the interest manifested were very gratifying to all. The meeting was opened with a song and praise service. Rev. E. L. Shettles led in prayer and Dr. West read Psalm xlii for a scripture lesson. Dr. Friley preached the Thanksgiving sermon, taking for his text the first verse of the lesson read: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." The sermon was timely, eloquent, effective and uplifting to all who heard it. Dr. Friley said that thankfulness is the outgrowth of thoughtfulness, and praise "the rent which is due to God" for what He is to us and what He does for us—God the omnipotent, the omniscient, the omnipresent. Life, death and the destinies of men and nations are in His hands. To be thankful is to be thoughtful and mindful of our dependence upon God, of our unworthiness and of our responsibility. In beautifully rounded periods the speaker enumerated the manifold blessings of God to man, made in His own image. Among these were mentioned health, environment, country, providential care, and greatest of all, redemption. The growth of our country and the history of American arms from the Revolution to the Spanish-American war was given, and the finger of God traced in our triumphant destiny. In closing the minister said we should be thankful with cheerfulness and in humility, and should do more and more for God according to the measure of means and ability with which He has blessed us. Dr. West led in a fervent prayer at the conclusion of the discourse and a collection of $21.92 was taken for the poor.

The football excursions to Austin and Waco attracted a number. Seventy-nine tickets were sold for the I. & G. N. excursion to Austin for the game between the A. and M. first team and Varsity, and 45 tickets to Waco for the game between the A. and M. and Baylor university. Others took advantage of the day to go hunting.

more since we had a much finer crop. In fact, we had growing on the horticultural grounds this year, the finest crop of snap beans, the finest tomato crop, the finest sugar corn crop, the finest blackberry and strawberry crops that were ever seen on the college grounds before. It has taxed our energies to the utmost to harvest these crops as they ripened. We have received many inquiries about selling our canned goods. We would have no trouble in disposing of all our goods to local grocersmen at a handsome profit. It will be a long time before the home the illustrations. Preparations are being made to put up a small pickling factory, jelly factory, etc. In fact, we want to be able to recommend methods by which horticultural crops may be made to pay after once grown, irrespective of the markets. We want to teach young men how these things may be done. We have demands now for more young men trained in these lines of work and nursery work than we can supply.

Samples of our canned goods were sent to several persons in the state who were competent to judge canned goods and we were greatly demand can be supplied, and there will hardly ever be a lack of a market for home grown-canned goods if they are put up clean and nice.

It is often asked if there are not some secrets in canning. In reply I might state that there are a few factories in the north that put up a peculiar brand of goods and gain a "good run on the markets" for them. The main secret is cleanliness and good processing. When canning factories are purchased, the company that sells the machinery usually gives printed directions for canning various things. However, I might state that we cannot follow these directions to the letter here in the south. Our summers are longer and hotter than those of the north, consequently, we have to process longer than they do up there, hence the failure of some southern factories when run according to northern directions. Then, there are certain preservatives frequently used in cans of corn, sometimes to bleach the corn and keep the white color. Canning factories of the south have not, as a rule, "been on to these secrets" used by factories of the north. Hence, southern canned corn has failed frequently to compete successfully with northern canned corn though the quality is just as good. We do not like the idea of using any preservatives and I think the public ought to be warned against it. Let us have the pure, fresh article.

We have just tested a method of canning corn here that has greatly improved the color and flavor also. It is an excellent "secret" that will greatly be appreciated by all canneries that have canned goods to be "off in color and flavor." It is simply this: cool the cans off rapidly just after cooking. This stops the cooking at once and sets the color and flavor.

I might state also in regard to small canneries, that we have frequently advised attaching them to gins on the farms and in the small towns where the house and steam supply usually lie idle during the canning season. Quite a number of our ginners are now acting on our suggestion. We are also experimenting along the line of bringing the small cannery within reach of each individual family. We have a small evaporator made expressly for this purpose so that they may be attached to the ordinary cooking stove, but we are not prepared to recommend these pleased with the favorable reports made on them. A copy of one report is given here:

Houston, Texas, July 17, 1901.
—Replying to yours of some days ago concerning samples of peaches, corn, tomatoes and beans received, and we beg to state that the samples are considerably above the average canned goods handled on this market, with the exception of a very fancy peach that this firm handles, in addition to those we handle for the general trade. Your tomatoes are exceptionally fine; the peaches are of excellent flavor but a little small. The Texas trade prefers California peaches, they being very large and hard, a fine flavor also. Your peaches are similar to those packed in Michigan, which rank very high in the east. The corn and beans are of a similar quality to the Baltimore pack and demonstrates that the Texas people ought to pack their own goods. The peaches are worth f. o. b. College, $2 per dozen; the tomatoes are worth f. o. b. College, $1.25 per dozen; the corn is worth f. o. b. College, $1.10 per dozen; the beans are worth f. o. b. College, 90 cents to $1 per dozen. We congratulate the A & M College and your department in particular on the quality, flavor and style of those goods.

Haskins & Hutchinson.
At this estimate our small cannery saved the college $424.19 on a little less than 15,000 cans that were put up in six weeks. The cost of every item included from the cost of seed to the finished can. We paid 12 1/2 cents per hour for labor in order to allow some worthy students to make some money to pay expenses through the college. Nearly all regular canneries pay by the job or piece, which is more satisfactory.

Some horticultural associations are considering the advisability of sending a man to the college to learn the canning business in order that they may establish similar canneries in different communities. The college gives a short course in horticulture next winter, beginning January 3rd and ending March 17th. The practical side of canning will be taught along with truck farming and fruit growing. The college has more demand for men trained along these lines than it can supply.

WOMEN AND JEWELS.
Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get all Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at the Wilson-Jenkins Drug Co.'s store, Bryan. more since we had a much finer crop. In fact, we had growing on the horticultural grounds this year, the finest crop of snap beans, the finest tomato crop, the finest sugar corn crop, the finest blackberry and strawberry crops that were ever seen on the college grounds before. It has taxed our energies to the utmost to harvest these crops as they ripened. We have received many inquiries about selling our canned goods. We would have no trouble in disposing of all our goods to local grocers at a handsome profit. It will be a long time before the home the illustrations. Preparations are being made to put up a small pickling factory, jelly factory, etc. In fact, we want to be able to recommend methods by which horticultural crops may be made to pay after once grown, irrespective of the markets. We want to teach young men how these things may be done. We have demands now for more young men trained in these lines of work and nursery work than we can supply.

Samples of our canned goods were sent to several persons in the state who were competent to judge canned goods and we were greatly demand can be supplied, and there will hardly ever be a lack of a market for home grown canned goods if they are put up clean and nice.

It is often asked if there are not some secrets in canning. In reply I might state that there are a few factories in the north that put up a peculiar brand of goods and gain a "good run on the markets" for them. The main secret is cleanliness and good processing. When canning factories are purchased, the company that sells the machinery usually gives printed directions for canning various things. However, I might state that we cannot follow these directions to the letter here in the south. Our summers are longer and hotter than those of the north, consequently, we have to process longer than they do up there, hence the failure of some southern factories when run according to northern directions. Then, there are certain preservatives frequently used in cans of corn, sometimes to bleach the corn and keep the white color. Canning factories of the south have not, as a rule, "been on to these secrets" used by factories of the north. Hence, southern canned corn has failed frequently to compete successfully with northern canned corn though the quality is just as good. We do not like the idea of using any preservatives and I think the public ought to be warned against it. Let us have the pure, fresh article.

We have just tested a method of canning corn here that has greatly improved the color and flavor also. It is an excellent "secret" that will greatly be appreciated by all canneries that have canned goods to be "off in color and flavor." It is simply this: cool the cans off rapidly just after cooking. This stops the cooking at once and sets the color and flavor.

I might state also in regard to small canneries, that we have frequently advised attaching them to gins on the farms and in the small towns where the house and steam supply usually lie idle during the canning season. Quite a number of our ginnermen are now acting on our suggestion. We are also experimenting along the line of bringing the small cannery within reach of each individual family. We have a small evaporator made expressly for this purpose so that they may be attached to the ordinary cooking stove, but we are not prepared to recommend these
